

MILLESIMATO D'ANTAN

Codice MIRI

This Sparkling Millesimato D'Antan® Wine is made using slow, traditional artisanal methods, offering an unmistakable intensity and unique sensations..

The long ageing in bottles , which can also stretch beyond 10 years - in contact with native lees we personally select results in a wine that seems to have no age limits and yields a great and always faithful ally over time.

A wine in which surprising freshness is accompanied by the aromas of honey, spices, dried fruit and a distant memory of chocolate, in a continuous crescendo of harmonies. A rare wine made for connoisseurs, the result of a special, felicitous moment in nature, and of endless, patient work by man.

CLASSIFICATION: Quality sparkling wine - Brut.

GRAPE VARIETY: 100% Cortese.

PRODUCTION AREA: hills, within the Gavi D.O.C.G. production area. CUVÉE: based on grapes suitable for Gavi D.O.C.G. production.

SPARKLING TECHNIQUE: classic fermentation in bottles, aged at length, maturation on lees up to and beyond 10 years.

CONSERVATION: best enjoyed within three years of production (dégorgement).

SERVING TEMPERATURE: 8 °C.

APPEARANCE: dense, soft and abundant foam; minute and continuous perlage.

COLOUR: light gold, bright and brilliant.

BOUQUET: intense and persistent; a warm first impression passes on to intense hints of exotic fruits, fading into honey and spices in a soft, elegant complex.

TASTE: important, dry, full, decisive and fresh; velvety and continuous texture, refined by the long stay on lees. Pleasantly acidulous, with nice hints of almond, brioche, cream and yeast.

FOOD PAIRINGS: ideal as an aperitif and for special lunches, wonderful after lunch and for 'meditation.'

IMPORTANT NOTE: sparkling wine reaches its optimal serving temperature after about two hours in the refrigerator. It should not remain in the fridge any longer than two/ three days, which could cause the cork to dry and the consequent alteration of the wine, with a loss of pressure and a change in taste.
